

With warmer days and longer nights, June was made for travel to the coast! Recent warm weather has caused sea temperatures to soar with some areas four degrees higher than usual. So, if you haven't done so already, grab the swimming gear and dive in.

From the epic Isle of Wight Festival to the Scarborough Fringe, June sees events in full swing and our new blog highlights the breadth of choice for families, many free. Head to Seaham on the Durham Coast for its Food Festival in August, Blackpool Carnival in July and Caribbean Fun Day Out, 22 June in Plymouth.

With this month's chance to win a stay at the chic Millstream Hotel in West Sussex' beautiful Bosham village, enjoy a great start to summer!

Free family fun in Redcar

If you move fast, you'll be in time to see some of the world's largest and most spectacular kites take to the skies above Redcar, North Yorkshire. Its Kite Festival takes place at Majuba Beach 14-15 June. This free family event offers music, stunt and ballet kites, workshops and walkabout performers.

Redcar & Cleveland's Outdoor Theatre Season also kicks off this month with live performances of A Midsummer Night's Dream, food-lovers are invited to Saltburn Food Festival in July while Between the Tides offers a free creative weekend for kids in August.

Walk your own Salt Path

Just released, The Salt Path tracks the journey of husband-and-wife Moth and Raynor Winn's trek along the 630-mile South West Coast Path, showcasing some of the outstanding coastal views from Somerset to Dorset.

If you'd like to explore a bite-size stretch, Dorset boasts some of the Path's most amazing sites, including Old Harry Rocks, Durlston Country Park, Lulworth Cove, Durdle Door and Chesil Beach. With 3,000 miles of footpaths to choose from, this is the county to pull on the walking boots.

Sandcastles and seals on the Lincs coast

Looking for a quiet escape in nature away from the crowds but also want fun and entertainment? Look no further than the Lincolnshire coast! Kick off your shoes under big skies and wide beaches, glimpse seals at Donna Nook, amazing birds at Gibraltar Point and Frampton Marsh, relax and recharge.

Then head to Skegness, Mablethorpe or Cleethorpes for memory-making family fun. Donkey rides, fairgrounds, boating trips and golden sands all await and when the last sandcastle is built, indulge in crispy fish and chips on the beach before a night on the town.
